Students taste school flavor at book sales

Book sales give students their first taste of the new year. Some students came early, hoping to avoid the rush and others dragged in, barely making the deadline. Some students were very confused about which text books to take, but then there were others who just breezed through. Lockers were also a problem. As usual, the 4'11 " people got top lockers and the 6' people got the bottom ones. When it came to get I.D.'s taken, everyone forced a smile to their face to make the picture look good.

Cafeteria often sends students away for lunch

Students spent lunch hour in a variety of ways.

There was the school cafeteria with different, nutritious, sometimes unidentifiable kinds of foods, 75 per cent of which contained peanut butter.

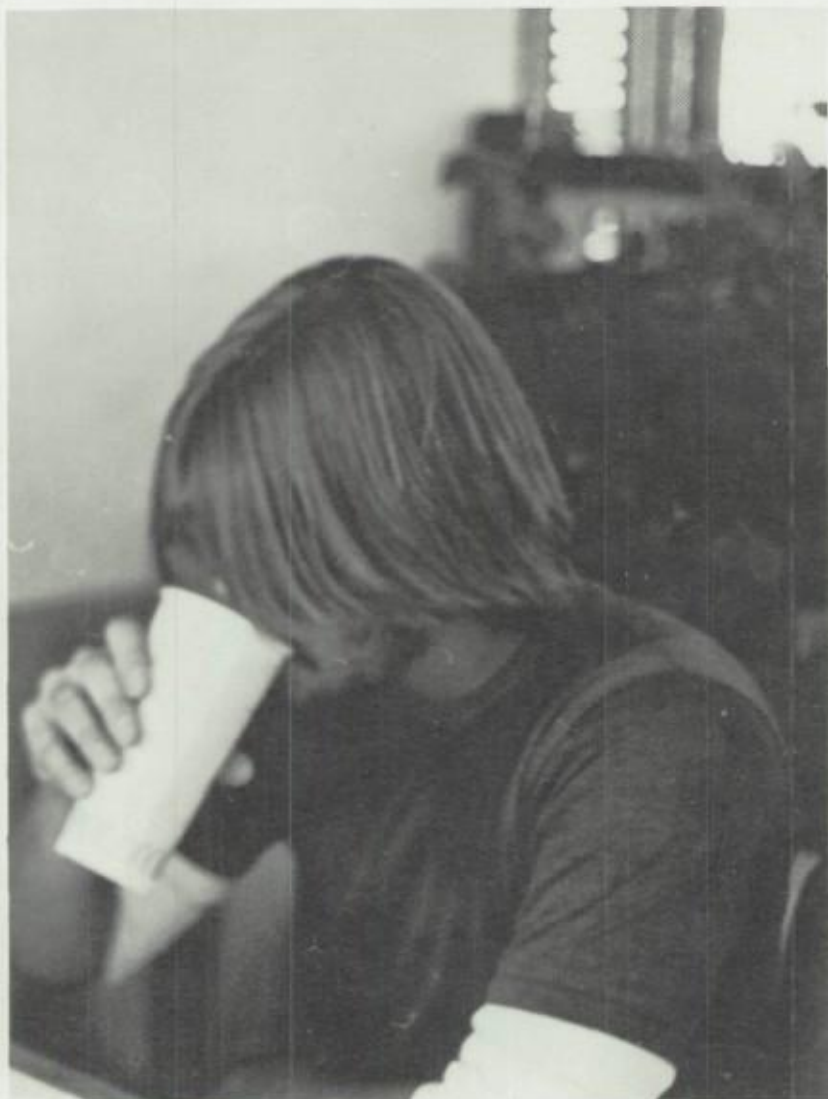

Fast food restaurants were popular, despite rising costs. McDonalds, Jack-in-the-Box and Taco Bell are only a few of the popular places.

Still others yearned for real old-fashioned cooking and headed for home.

Lunch spells more than food during weeks

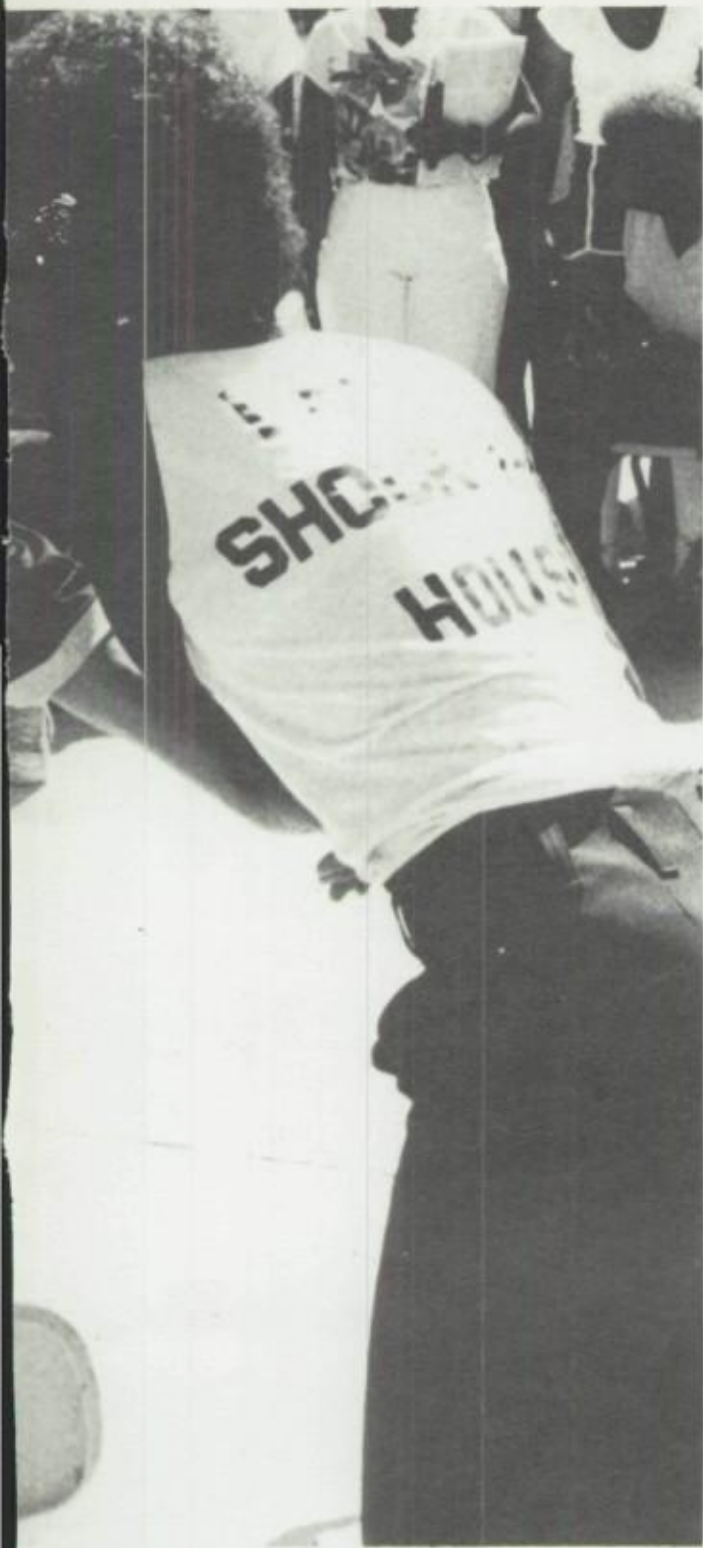

Many times during the year, ordinary lunch hours were livened up by various activities sponsored by student government.

After students finished eating they could participate or just watch such activities as "Pass-the-Orange", "Pin-the-Tail on the Bobcat", and "Brownie Eating".

Some kids were triumphant victors in the games. Chris Woolley proudly walked away with the last chair in "Musical Chairs," and Christy Wells with her partner Tom Hutchison won the "Don't Break the Banana Contest."

Campus furnishes places for study

Besides all the fun and activities at Maryvale, there was some serious studying going on. The IMC was a popular place to work. It had a quiet and relaxed atmosphere, most of the time. Classrooms, of course, were other good places to study.

At lunchtime and at other hours of the day, students could be seen on benches, on the ground, in groups or alone, cramming for tests in their next classes.

Stands lines provide action during season

During football games, a lot more went on than many realized. Not only were there dedicated fans who would sweat through the teams' every touchdown, but there were those who didn't even know how the game of football was played. They were there to see friends or to find out what was going on after the game. Some people were dressed nicely, even more so than they dressed at school. They were probably going to one of the many dances held in the gym.

There were those who joined the endless line at the refreshment stand during half-time. For those who were not hungry or thirsty, there was the half-time show to enjoy, but whether it was to socialize, watch, or just for something to do, the football games were a fun and popular way to spend Friday nights.

Normal student furnishes jobs for big wheels

While the leaders of Maryvale did their things, the average students were having their picture made, trying to find a chair when the music stopped, worked their math homework in English class, visited with their friends, skipped class for a smoke, and generally made it from day to day.

The average student is often forgotten, but without him, there would be no need for teachers, leaders, joiners, athletes, sweethearts, or yearbook staffs.

New Wave hits Government for assemblies

Assemblies provided a lot of entertainment throughout the year. Themes ranged from education to Christmas.

During the football season, pep assemblies were popular. The band played which helped perk up spirit, along with skits and the poms and cheers.

The last pep assembly was held in the auditorium, instead of the gym. Trophies were presented to cross country, volleyball and golf.

An education assembly, held during Education Week, was highlighted when Bill Mosley a channel 3 sports-caster gave an entertaining speech. Vicepresident Karen Jacobsen gave a more serious speech on the importance of education. The jazz band performed and the assembly ended with a slide show showing Maryvale students doing everyday activities

The Christmas assembly featured dancers from the advanced class performing original dances to Christmas music. The chorus also performed.

Other assemblies included senior favorites and election speeches.

Jacobsen, Lopez crowned at 1981 Homecoming

Homecoming week consisted of noontime activities, dress up days, and concluded with the big game and the crowning of King and Queen.

For the first time, Maryvale dedicated its homecoming to a past administrator Bernard Magnusson, who retired 2 years ago after serving as administrative assistant for 14 years.

The theme was "Super Heroes" and each class on campus and two clubs made floats that were displayed at a school parade and at halftime at the game.

First place was given to "Dudley Does Right For Maryvale", which was built by the Senior class. Second went to the Sophomores for "Spiderman" and third place went to the Juniors for "Captain Cavemen".

During halftime, Karen Jacobsen and Rick Lopez were crowned Homecoming Queen and King.

The game was played against the Central Bobcats with Maryvale winning 14 to 0.

Dance classes include basics and performing

The dance classes showed thier grace and originality by being featured in the Christmas assemblies.

Taught by Ms. Lorna Moore and Ms. Blanche Berry, the classes learned different styles of dance, choreographed thier own dances, and improved on technique.

The classes got to do a lot more performing than in previous years. Besides the Christmas concert, they danced in fall and spring concerts.

Quinn; Fowl named royalty at 1980 formal

Frosted Fantasies was the theme of the 1980 Christmas Formal. The big event of the evening was when Diane Quinn and Mark Fowl (upper left) were crowned Christmas formal royalty. Mark Schroder (upper right) portrayed Santa Claus and announced the winners. The king nominees (bottom center) Mark Fowl, Mark Shipe, Kent Boden and Jim Moody applaud while the queen was being crowned (top center). The King and Queen are shown dancing in the traditional royalty dance (bottom left).

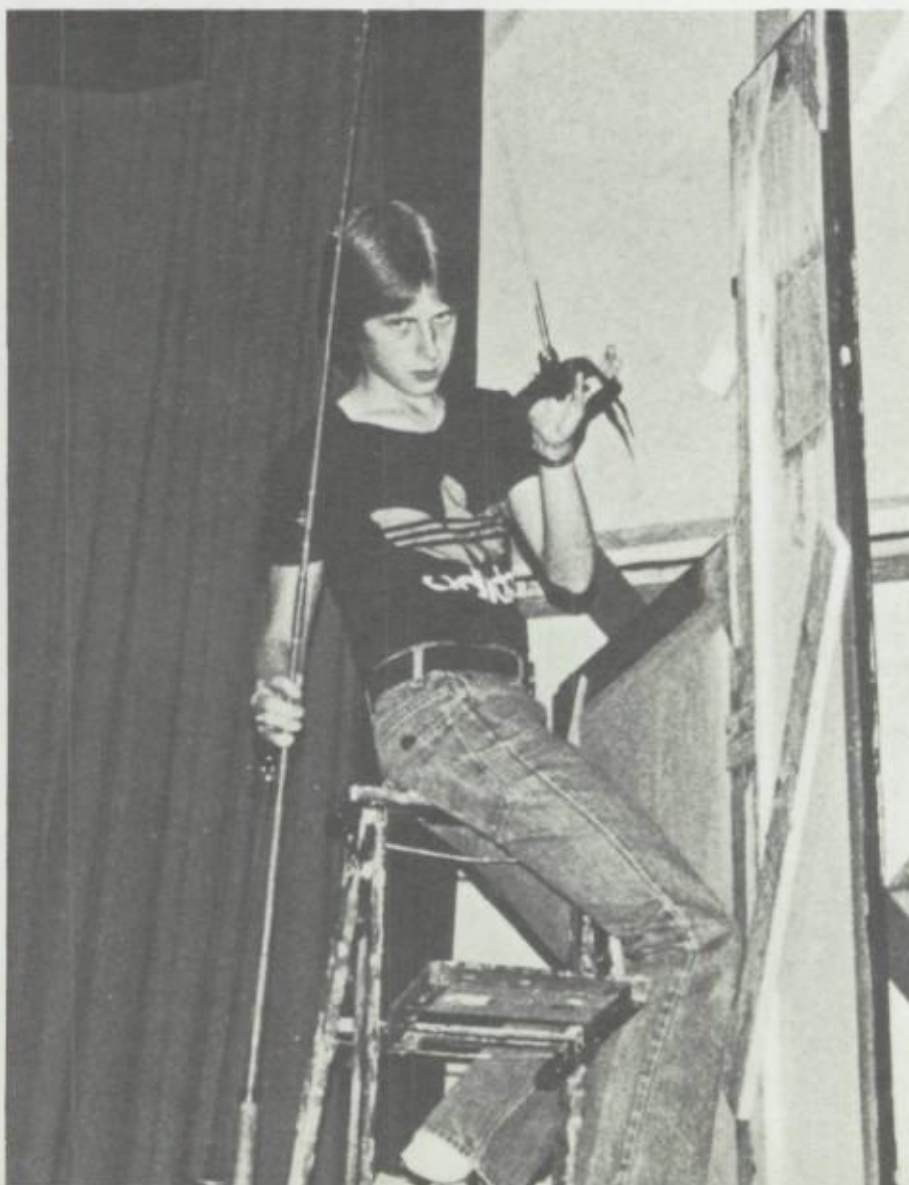

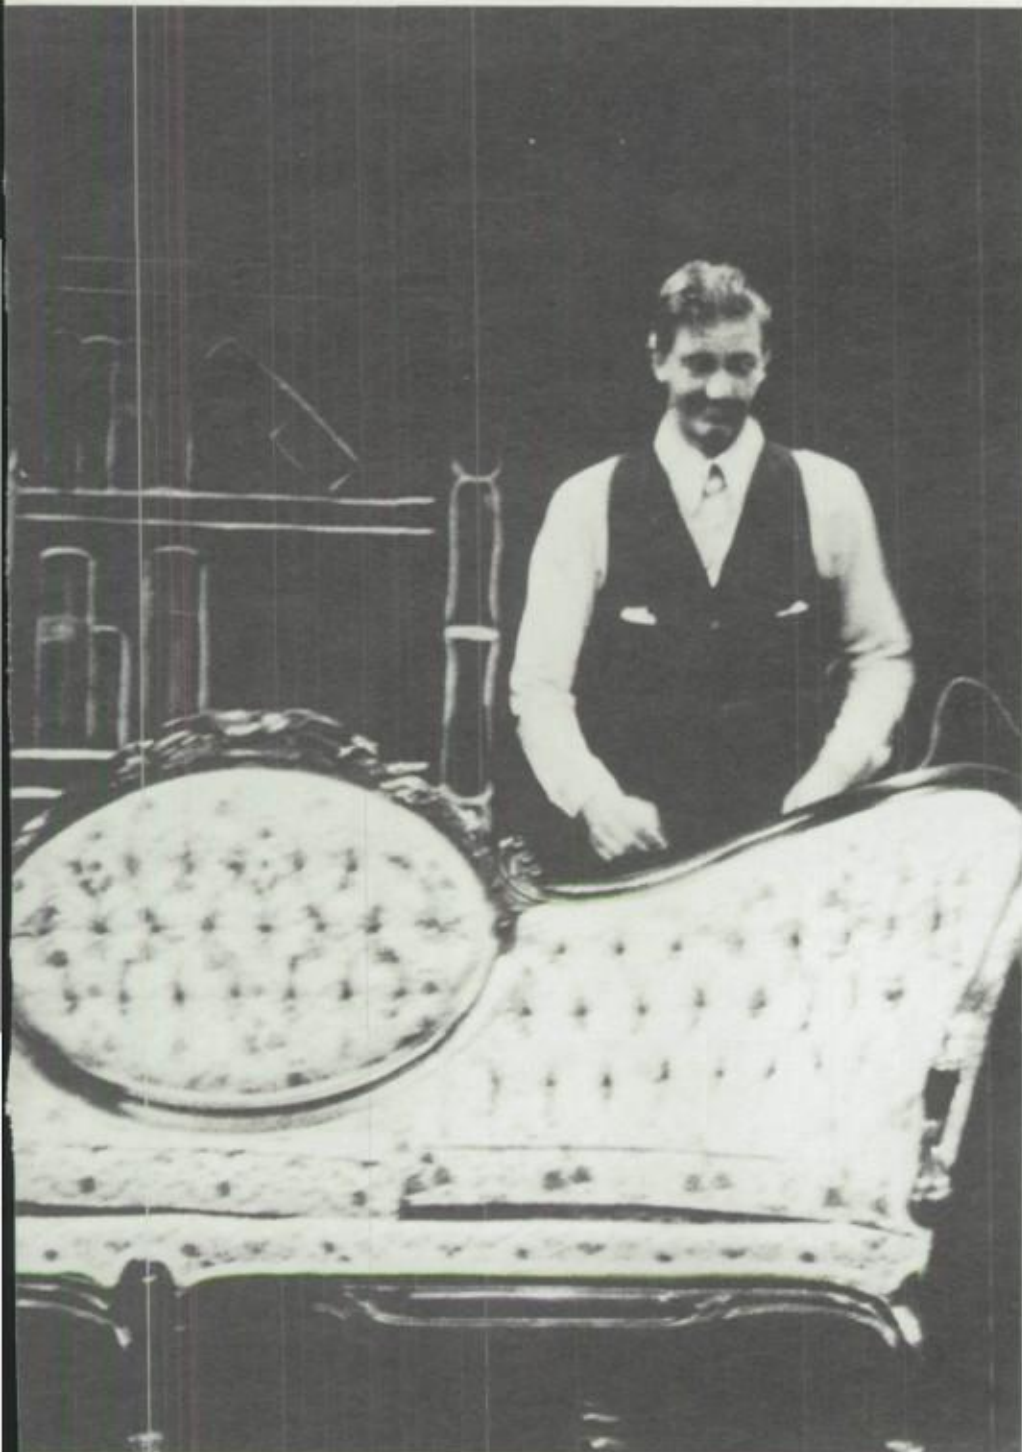

Special Effects, Strange lighting, and make up techniques, combined with fine student acting produced the Thespians first show of the year, "Dracula". The cast included Bill Jackson (Dracula) Molly Kellog (Lucy), Tom Schermitzler (Dr. Van Helsing), Mike Mueller (Seward, Lucy's Father), Scott Fay (Harker), Vaughn Surret (Butterworth), Carolyn Barnes (Miss Wells), and Brad Hutchings (Renfield).

Music

Fleetwood Mac, Styx, Heart, Van Halen, Bruce Springsteen, and Bob Seger were just a few musicians to visit the valley this season. The popularity of these was proven by the abundance of their concert T-Shirts and record album sales. Crimes of Passion, Auto American, and One more Song were albums by some of the 80's newly discovered talent, while house hold names such as Rod Stewart and Elton John kept turning up. Some great music was enjoyed this year, whether it was Rock and Roll or Boogie Down Funk. Come backs by John Lennon, AC/DC, Led Zeppelin and Heart were made after losing members of their groups, making albums like Back in Black even more popular.

Fashion

Most Maryvale styles were passed over from last year including Clavin Kline designer jeans, Ocean Pacific shirts and the popular Nike shoe. This is basically what the average students wore, with their Levis, but occasionally you'd see some Cosmo Queen in a purple space suit and a flammable hair style.

Cinema

The 1980-81 season offered only a limited amount of movies, but if you used your judgement they were worth the four bucks you had to pay to see them. While movies like the Empire Strikes back, Ordinary People and Stir Crazy made us laugh or cry, we were saddened by the deaths of Peter Sellers and Steve McQueen, and enlightened that Richard Pryor didn't lose face with his fans, when his freebaser exploded.

News

Iran ranked number one in the news stories throughout 1980-81. The fifty-two Americans held hostage there, were finally released just minutes after newly-elected President Ronald Reagan was inaugurated. Mt. St. Helens, the U.S.'s only active volcano couldn't keep still. Superbowl XV was Oaklands and Colonel Sanders licked his fingers for the last time. So did John Lennon, coming out of House husbandry after five years with a new album, "Double Fantasy". Some people in Cleveland demonstrated they would give up anything to see the Who even their lives. Closer to home, the Phoenix Union High District was forced to contemplate the closure of three schools to fit the budget. Faces from the gutter were Berkowitz and Mark David Chapman and Joe Bonano finally went to jail. Las Vegas became a hot spot on the map as two of their major hotels went up in smoke. Also, the rock group KISS took their make-up off for the public with the general response being, "put it back on".

Cars

Cars for speed, looks, strength or transportation. The student parking lot was packed with Trans Ams, Shiny 4x4's, long and lean lowriders and not so outstanding Monzas and Plymouth Station wagons. If you didn't drive, other alternatives included riding your bike, walking or bumming a ride from your friend. Ask Editor Gil Leighty how many bodies, (various sizes) you can put in a Mustang II. Eye Catching Autos include a Black, late modle Z-28, A Yellow 4x4 Ford, A street scrapin Buick lowrider and an Orange Corvette in the street show catagory, while little blue Hondas, various Toyotas and Datsuns made up a majority of the lot. There was also the big Plymouth fury with flat tires by the portables that sat there so long we thought it was a permanent fixture.

Costs

Today we complain about the high costs of living, but what will happen in 10 years, 5 years, or even the next year? As a comparison chart we list here a few of today prices, so when you glance back you can say, I remember when ...

- A 16 Oz. bottle of soda was .45
- A gallon of Regualr Gasline was 1.25
- A package of Zingers was .50
- A loaf of bread was .97
- A gallon of Milk was 1.89
- A movie ticket was 3.50
- A big Mac was 1.35
- ¼ gram cocaine was 35.00
- A Yearbook was 10.00

Jobs

Part time jobs were very popular among upperclassmen. Village Inn, McDonalds, Jack in the box, Capins and K-Mart were only a few of the businesses that hired students for after school work. One could usually pick out the over-worked and under-paid students making up time catching some Z's during their classes. Some seniors worked at McDonalds so long they began to develop sesame seed buns.

Clary drives band to learn routines

The band, under direction of Mr. Rick Clary, was in excellent form, as usual this year. Mr. Clary is the 4th director for the band in 3 years. They started practicing in August before school even started. Band members dragged themselves out of bed as early as 5:30 to practice formations and perfect their sound. The early practice paid off as you could see and hear if you attended football games or pep assemblies. The band is made up of horns, percussions, flag line, poms, twirler Leslie Cannon, and drum major, David Sawyer, whose favorite phrase is "Horns up"

We are the ATHLETES

Maryvale football was "big play" football, turning turnovers into touchdowns.

In the season opener against Westwood, defensive secondary provided the only points when Kevin Phillips picked off a Westwood pass and returned it for a touchdown in the first quarter.

The defense played tough the rest of the game with Chris Wooley, Eric Jones, and Pete Nickerson finding stray Westwood passes, and Kevin Phillips recovering a fumble. The final score, Maryvale 6, Westwood 0.

Game two found the Panthers 7 points short as St. Mary's handed Maryvale their first loss, 14-7.

Although winning is better than losing, outstanding individual effort can be found in both. In this game, Dale Rearick met St. Mary's quarterback on five separate occasions leading the Panther defense to 16 sacks as he headed towards a record breaking 119 total tackles for the season.

After a disappointing 21-0 shut out by McClintock, Maryvale's offense was finally geared up to destroy Carl Hayden 40-6.

Running back, Pete Nickerson, scored 12 of the Panther's points enroute to a 763 yard season.

The most intensely played game of the season was the hard-fought loss against arch-rival Trevor Browne.

Trevor Browne scored first but was followed three minutes later by Maryvale when quarterback Rich Ayotte connected with tight end Scott Redfern. The second quarter was all Trevor and the cats entered the third quarter down 20-7.

The Panther defense held the Bruins scoreless in the second half and the offense added eight midway through the third quarter to end the scoring and the Panther possession of the traveling trophy.

After two more wins, against West and Central, the Panthers went into a tail spin and ended the season with a 4 and 6 record.

In its first fall season, the golf team came closer than ever to its dream of a state championship. After an undefeated dual season, the Panthers won the Division, chased Salpointe and made up 13 of the 16-stroke lead over the last nine holes before bowing and accepting the runnerup spot again.

Volleyball team wins Division

The 1980 Varsity Volleyball Team was able to bring home the Division Championship for the second year in a row.

The girls coached by Bev Bostrom, had a regular season record of 7 wins and 5 losses. With only two returning players, they were thrust into a new league with much harder competition, but they improved after each game. They beat out Trevor Browne in a close match of 6-15, 15-12, 15-5, to reserve the League B fourth and final seat going into Division.

The Panthers exploded to the peak of their skill at Division. First they eliminated Arcadia who were number one League A, 15-3, 15-7. Their next game was against West, and they stopped them at 15-4, 16-14. In the finals, it was Maryvale and Camelback again, whom they had previously lost to three times that season. The Panthers won it 15-10, 17-7, to take all three matches in only two games, and the Metro-Division Championship.

Unfortunately, their momentum did not carry through to the State tournament, where they lost 6-15, 14-16 to Canyon del Oro, to make a total season record of 11 wins and 8 losses.

Spring break rains spoil game action

Spring sports usually wind up with the short end of the stick because yearbook deadlines end about the same time baseball, track, tennis, and girls basketball start.

Add to that bad weather and spring break to make it impossible to even give them the usual coverage. Two baseball games, one track meet, and a tennis match were postponed the last week yearbook could mail in final copy. Luckily, girls' basketball is played indoors, but the other teams had to settle for pictures of practice.

Students attend summer workshops

Eight students represented Maryvale for one week at Anytown last summer. Anytown is an experience to learn more about yourself and others. Juniors and Seniors all over Arizona experience their diverse cultural, ethnic, religious, and economic backgrounds. Anytowners meet in discussion groups and participate by offering their ideas and listening to the feelings of others. In order to be a part of Anytown, high schools and/or sponsoring agencies select delegates that are based on desire to participate.

Certain students were picked to attend Girls' State and Boys' State of Arizona. This program was designed to teach the students about government by participating in a mock government of Arizona. They learned about their rights and privileges by exercising their duties and responsibilities.

Government stops violence and starvation

Student Government began the year on a serious note. Following assorted acts of student violence at neighboring district schools, student government joined with Trevor Browne's government to form a student task force. Their meetings were quite successful as shown by the lack of violence and vandalism usually associated with the Maryvale-Browne game. Student government also led a successful can food drive for Christmas. Maryvale came out on top when they challenged Trevor to see who could get more cans.

Vice President Karen Jacobsen led the associated student council in sponsoring a successful Christmas Formal.

Cheers revive spirits, attend summer camp

Much of Maryvale's spirit during the season's games was brought about by Maryvale's cheerleaders. Even though Maryvale's football team didn't always come out on top, the cheers did. With much enthusiasm, the cheers brought back smiles to those defeated.

During the summer, Maryval's cheers attended a cheer camp. Maryvale brought home the cheer stick, something given to the best cheerleaders at the camp.

Newspaper has points, changes to magazine

Panther Tracks, under the dynamic leadership of Dennis Goodman had its points.

The staff started with a grand twelve page issue celebrating the opening of school. The paper did adopt a magazine format, so twelve pages weren't that many. Seriously, the new format was handled nicely as artwork and photos were used in abandon. Generally because of a lack of copy.

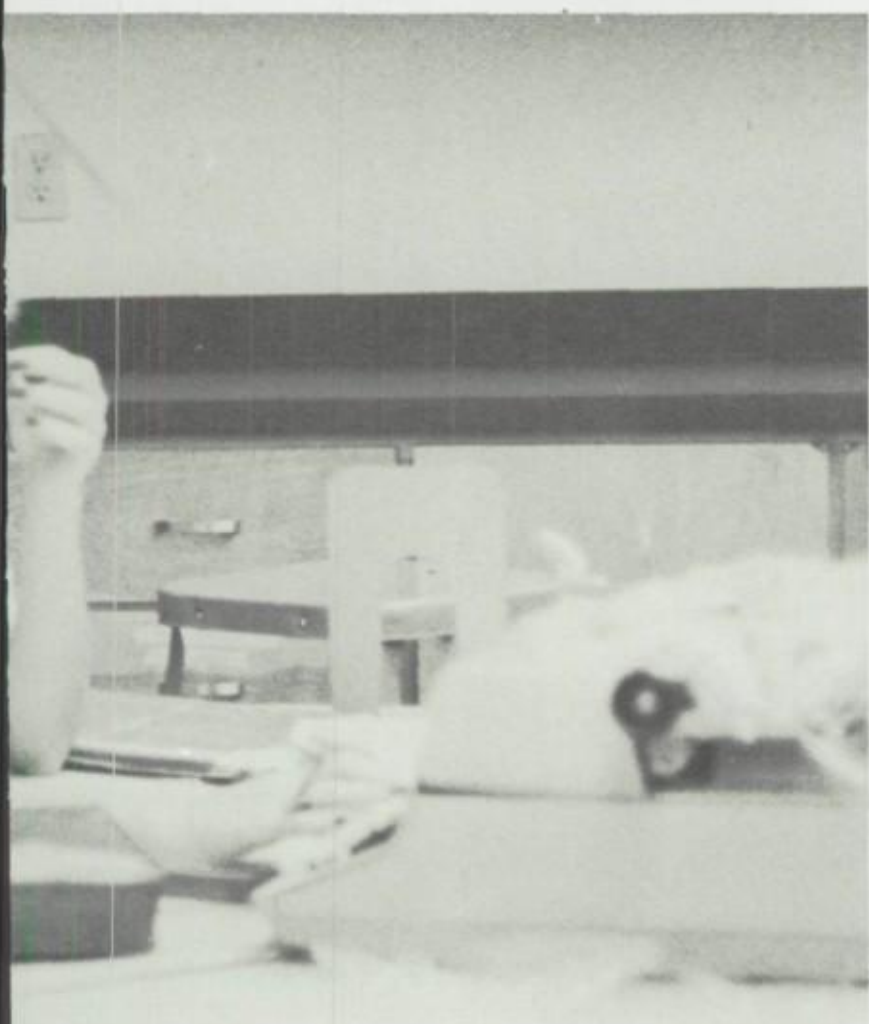

During the year, a whirlwind named Lori Todd came in, helped a little and moved on.

Four staff members, Dennis, Gil Leighty, Steve Carroll, and Detta Hurlbert concluded three consecutive years on staff.

Overpopulation hit the yearbook staff and Editor Gil Leighty was plagued with the problem of keeping everybody busy.

Lori Olsen, assistant editor, stayed busy complaining and eating. Believe it or not it takes Lori 3½ hours to eat one Big Mac. Her production record at deadline proved this.

Sherri Dropik spent her time saying things like "Gillllll! Now what can I do?" Her many jobs ranged from keeping lusty Steve Carroll calm to trying to sedate whining photographer Tom Leggin. Poor Tom was picked on all through the year. Every time he had to take a group shot 900 biology experiments were due the next morning.

Off the wall, Audrey Sorensen spent most of her time being mean to the nursery school kids Laurie Groscost brought in from child development.

No one saw much of Dennis Goodman this year. He thinks he is invisible but the rest of the staff think he is becoming a hermit. He grew a beard, saved five of his paychecks and moved into the darkroom. All he has had with him is his camera, cassette player, and Elton John tape. He came out once a week to get a new pair of tennis shoes.

Four or five non-staffers seem to make it to class more than half the of the staff did. Our typewriter grew a Laura Dameron and Tara Reed. Our attendance cards grew a cousin Randy Leighty. The only words Randy knew were "Pink or Buff."

Advisor Earl Stinson became so disgusted with the staff he put in a drop slip. The schedule change committee would not approve it so he took up crossword puzzles and golf.

Miller, Geiler run 'tight' campus ship

With a minimum of hullabaloo, George Miller and Vae Geiler used their second year as principal and assistant principal respectively to set Maryvale on a long term course.

No drastic reforms were necessary to accomplish this feat and few were forthcoming. Both administrators were easily accessible to students and teachers with problems.

Mr. Miller was particularly effective in his role as curriculum leader, but also led the return of peace on the campus after Maryvale and other schools experienced violence on and off campus during the early part of the school year.

Geiler, who retired from the navy reserve after 20 years service, used that experience to run a "tight" ship, especially in the field of attendance. He was particularly helpful to students who had scheduling problems and could be counted on to find money for worthy projects around school.

Administration handles rules, sports, clubs

Assistant principals Martin Ulloa and Dorann Thoreen, also gaining confidence in their second year on the job, shared in bringing stability to the campus and helping form one of the most effective administrative teams in the district.

Although their primary duty is handling student discipline problems, both enjoy their secondary responsibilities. Mr. Ulloa serves as Maryvale's Athletic Director and sets up schedules for the various varsity, jayvee and freshman teams. He also keeps a check on eligibility of all the athletes.

Mrs. Thoreen, a former English teacher and Student Government advisor, works with the school's extracurricular and co-curricular activities. She has been largely responsible for the return of enthusiastically received assemblies.

Enrollment loss problem for MH'S faculty

The school year proved to be a remarkably steady one for the faculty of Maryvale High School as few changes were made in their routine. The veteran teachers were joined, not by new teachers but by transfers from other campuses in the district as money problems caused by declining enrollment to plague the district.

Declining enrollment hit the Art department as it lost a long-time friend, Ceramics teacher Cal Tenny. Richard Shilling taught three ceramics classes as well as his Craft classes. Mrs. Elizabeth Meineke kept her department going as smoothly as ever.

Department adds revolving doors for travelers

Bill Saban, the jovial chairman of the Business department greeted two new teachers as Nestore Bartholomew and Linda Montonaro joined to teach classes in beginning typing and General Business. The English department should have installed revolving doors.

Not only did Arline Ranck and Tom Dickerson split their time at Maryvale with other duties, but Kay Larson taught until mid-term only to leave making room for Jim Waugh who taught at Maryvale last year; Mary Luckenbill interrupted her teaching year to bring a son, Paul Christopher into the world; Joyce Benner enjoyed her first full year here after moving from West at semester break last year. Almeda Boatwright was the other new member of the staff.

Schiele brings German tongue to languages

Foreign language added a new tongue to its offerings as Betty Schiele taught German for two periods a day before going to Alhambra.

Because of illness of department chairman Irene Long, Judy Newman came to the Home Economics department soon after school started. She handled department duties as well as taught Child Development.

One department that seldom changes is the Industrial Arts area. George Steinberger's auto Shop classes did tune-up work and oil changes for the faculty.

White returns; chairs social studies field

Head of reading. Iris Cashdan and Margaret Watson were its new teachers. Long-time teacher Sue Stanford left on leave of absence shortly before semester break.

The Science Department gained a new chairman as Tom Messner replaced Leo Koivisto. Math teacher Barbara Stephens began teaching two chemistry classes a day.

Social Studies also gained a new department chairman as Bob White moved from Trevor Browne to replace Jim Mottershaw.

The Exceptional Student Program just grew and grew under the capable.

Richard Clary acquires baton of Band

Chairman Bonnie Tryon welcomed Jimmie Sanders to the Math Department. He replaced Coach Bob Young who was on leave.

The performing Arts Department had a former vocal music teacher, Charlotte Edgar, return to the fold. However, it was just for two periods a day. Richard Clary took over the reins of the Panther Band and Lisa Estes taught speech, drama, and stagecraft.

The Physical Education and Health Department added one female teacher Cheryl Watkins. Gene Shipley returned from time to time.

Vanessa Ketchum became department.

Maryvaleland under thumbs of Shirleys

Once upon a time, there were four Shirleys: Anderson (upper left), Colvert (upper right), Feuersanger (lower left) and Sternke (lower right). This, in itself, is not so strange, but all these Shirleys dwelt in the land of Maryvale and worked for King Miller, and assistant kings Geiler, Ulloa and Thoreen.

Anderson and Sternke ruled over the yellow call cards and many students in the land of Maryvale thought they had magical powers. Colvert ruled over the coin of the realm and many thought the kingdom was broke. Feuersanger was the keeper of the royal secrets with which she regaled all the court . . .

This is the hardest thing I have ever written. Four years ago as I sat in Mr. Stinson's journalism class I couldn't even imagine that I would someday be writing this, the final copy. This will put the finishing touches on the 1981 Panthorian and on some of the best experiences I have ever had. I owe many thanks to many people for their help on the yearbook and just keeping me alive and sane.

Mr. Stinson, I have a confession to make. Ever since December of my sophomore year, I have been able to see through your mean act. I know that you've always wanted me to think that you hated me but I always understood that you really just disliked me a lot.

Tommy Leggin, Thank you. You've been a great help. You get my vote for "Rookie of the year". Besides that, you've given Uncle Earl someone else to yell at. (You are the only other person who threw the phone off the desk, besides me).

Randy, Thank you for all the times you've run out to the snack bar for me. (Without you, I probably would have died of starvation).

And to the rest of the late night deadlines staff, Lori, Sherri, Steve, and particularly Dennis (for knowing more than I did most of the time). Here are a few non-staffers who I would personally like to thank. Diane Dixon, for all the time I picked on you. Like when your senior picture was ruined and you had to give me a new one, and also when you had to come in here 900 times just to get one picture taken.

Tara Reed for being a special friend and supporting me in all the tough decisions I had to make.

To you the people of Maryvale, for who you are and what you do.

*R.C.
Loughy*

To Larry Glenn you sure have a way with girls.
Goodluck in the future for you and Dancer.

James

This is who we are and what we do at Maryvale High School.
